

Dear First Baptist Family,

I wanted to take a moment to address concerns regarding the Covid-19 (Coronavirus) and its impact on our community and FBCO in specific. I want you to know that your safety and health are very important to us here at FBCO. Our leadership team is listening to and will heed the advice of those both locally and nationally in regards to this matter. As of this communication, no “official” warnings or “calls to action” have been issued in regards to churches in our community, but “things” could change in the days ahead.

We want you to feel safe here at FBCO. We are always dedicated to offering a clean, safe environment. Our facilities are not only cleaned regularly, but our cleaning contractor is seeking solutions to better combat the spread of germs in days such as these. Specifically, our Preschool area is wiped down with Clorox wipes after every service. Additionally, you should see an increase in sanitation opportunities on our campus beginning this Sunday.

I am looking forward to joining you Sunday to celebrate the goodness and grace of God. There is no substitute for the “assembling of ourselves (Heb. 10:25)”; however, if you are one of those whom officials have communicated a need to take extra precautions please know that all of our regular services will be provided through an online opportunity. Over the past few years we have invested resources and time to make sure that we as a family of faith can stay “connected” in times such as these.

Pastor Jeff
